

Jennifer Urezzio

Jennifer Urezzio is an intuitive healer, author, teacher and speaker. She founded her business, Blooming Grove, in 2004 and created a new paradigm of divine guidance, Know Soul's Language, in response to her intuitive senses and ability to help others feel better about themselves both holistically and naturally.

With Know Soul's Language, Jennifer guides clients in creating a conscious connection with their soul. This new way of understanding how the soul expresses itself is being embraced by top healers, lifestyle coaches and CEOs all over the country.

Jennifer's success comes from helping people navigate life's expansions, sharpen their intuitive senses and celebrate themselves. She is an expert in therapeutic kinesiology, pranic healing and essential oil therapies. She uses her insight to develop a personal path to understanding for each person she works with.

Jennifer's speaking programs provide powerful and transformative advice to audiences looking to:

- Grow a business, a community, a tribe
- Quiet inner critics
- Become stronger leaders
- Realize and expand goals
- Improve relationships
- Live from a place of power and truth

Credentials: Jennifer's expertise has been profiled in the Courier Post, SheFinds.com, The Beauty Bible and Mindful Living NJ. She has been interviewed by H. Les Brown for News for the Soul, as well as on Efficio Radio, Rachel Lerner's Healthy Bits and Bites, MOMEo, Lifegasms, Spiritual Rockstar, and more. She has also conducted many guest teleclasses within the spiritual healing arena, like the Spiritual Entrepreneur Masterclass, and frequently serves as a keynote speaker at conferences and events.

Through Know Soul's Language Jennifer gives individuals tangible tools they can use in their everyday lives to live with integrity, authenticity and prosperity.
